HEADQUARTERS ISSUES QUEEREST OFFICIAL DECREE

In today's interesting installment from the second series of Lord George's war memoirs, of which the most interesting and sensational portions have been receiving exclusive advance publication in The Bulletin, Lord George sums up some of the odd consequences of the tragic Pashendale offensive, pointing out that the British attack of November, 1917, started out by being brilliantly successful, but was negated for lack of adequate support.

By the RT. HON. DAVID LLOYD GEORGE
CHAPTER FIVE
No soldier of any intelligence now defends these senseless attacks—certainly not one who is not implicated by some share of responsibility for them. Not even the first objective of the campaign had been attained.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE
The fight came to be known as the "Battle of Pashendale," but the capture of this village gave us only one-fifth of the first ridge which the army had to capture. It left the army with a narrower salient than the deadly salient of Ypres, which had already cost us so much.

SHIELDS OUT OF NET MEET WITH INJURY

May Default His Newport Tennis Title; Leg Badly Hurt

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 16.—A tennis player in the form of the defending champion, Francis N. Shields, yesterday afternoon suffered a serious injury to his right leg while playing a five-set match against Frank Parker of Springfield, N.J.

Shields' defeat was due to a leg injury, according to his manager, Charles G. Grier, who said that Shields' leg was badly hurt by a blow from Parker's racket. Shields was unable to play the remainder of the match and was taken to the hospital.

Default of Fred Perry, British tennis champion, and Frank Woodhouse, American tennis champion, in the doubles match yesterday afternoon was due to a leg injury. Shields' leg was badly hurt by a blow from Parker's racket. Shields was unable to play the remainder of the match and was taken to the hospital.

COAST WELTER BEATS PEG BOY

VANCOUVER, Aug. 16.—George Wallace, light-hitting, Vancouver welterweight, scored a knockout victory over Eddie Kneifeld, of the western Canadian middleweight title, in the third round of their scheduled exhibition main event held here last night.

By his victory Wallace earned a shot at the British Empire title, the new vacant Dominion crown, which will be fought for in the opening frame, feeling each other out.

In the second, Kneifeld, a beautiful boxer with a sharp punch in either hand, called into Wallace and knocked the Vancouver fighter up

WAR REQUIRES LESS COURAGE SPEAKER SAYS

Far More Courage Needed to Resist Impulse to Fight Audience Told

In fidelity to the teachings of the Christian gospel there lies the only effective way of resisting aggressive war, stated Rev. Leon H. Brown, lecturer on pacifism, at a meeting sponsored by the Central United School of Religion in Central United Church, Wednesday.

The true genius of the Christian gospel, that has triumphed over tyranny and persecution in ages past and that is still winning the hearts of men in the present and hereafter, is not the power of the sword but the power of the word, he said. He also has endeavored to put up a defense of even a confused and uneducated man against an aggressive foe.

In previous lectures Mr. Brown demonstrated clearly that since participation in war is automatic, it is an obligation to kill, the follower of Christianity is called upon to renounce war. He also has endeavored to put up a defense of even a confused and uneducated man against an aggressive foe.

To fight, stated Mr. Brown, is to succumb to the very evil which should be resisted. Far more courage is needed to resist the impulse to fight, than is needed to go over the top.

The complete repudiation of war could be attained, he said, if the world were to follow the teachings of the Christian gospel. The only way to the world's history. The very task of the present is to show that should give it its great appeal to the young and to the courageous of the world today.

VIVID CONTRASTS
Quoting figures to show the startling contrast between the expenditure that is being made for war and the expenditure that is being made for peace in all civilized countries of the world, Mr. Brown stated that in Britain alone, $1,000,000,000 of the tax-payer's money is being spent every day on the armaments which are being used to destroy life and property.

He stated that the expenditure for the League of Nations is only $100,000,000 a year, and that the expenditure for the League of Nations is only $100,000,000 a year, and that the expenditure for the League of Nations is only $100,000,000 a year.

Kiss And Make Up

After discussion among members of the French cabinet headed by Premier Gaston Doumergue, which threatened to split the "salvation" government of France wide open, and precipitate an even greater crisis than that which followed the Stavisky scandal, was dramatically ended when Andre Tardieu withdrew his charges that Eduard Herriot, like himself a former premier of the republic and now a colleague in the coalition cabinet, had been aware of the Stavisky fraud before the Stavisky premier committed suicide. Tardieu's charges also included former Premier Camille Chautauque, whose resignation resulted from the Stavisky revelations. With France threatened on the edge of disaster, Premier Doumergue continued, believed veteran among French politicians and a former president, was continued from retirement in an effort to save the country from internal disruption. So serious was he at the closing of the breach between Tardieu and Herriot, the attorney, that he offered his resignation, providing his account would be allowed, at the lower limit.
